Description

This course is described as:

An introduction to data and information processing concepts and systems viewed from a contemporary management perspective. Emphasis on uses and applications as well as emerging managerial issues with the potential to reshape the form and function of information systems.

Subject matter is traditionally organized into three general themes:

1. Business Problems And Information System Solutions
2. Information Technology Overview
3. Information System Implementation Strategy

Location

building name	room number	address
Duques Hall	351	2201 G Street NW, Washington DC 20052

Schedule

The class meets on Monday mornings from 11:10am to 1:40pm. Class time will include two sessions or roughly equal length (70 minutes) separated by a short (10 minute) break.

time range	usage
11:10am to 12:20pm	Session I

time range	usage
12:20pm to 12:30pm	Break
12:30pm to 1:40pm	Session II

The class Schedule (SCHEDULE.md) contains a tentative week-by-week description of the topics and technologies covered in each class, as well as assignments given and due. It may change to reflect the pace of instruction.

Calendar

The class meets from 8/31/15 through 12/9/15. The course Calendar (CALENDAR.md) reflects the most up-to-date scheduling information, including class times, instructor office hours, holidays, support sessions, and more.

Learning Community

The Learning Community is comprised of a Professor, a Teaching Assistant, and many Students.

Professor

name	nickname	email	academic qualifications	professional experience	email preferences
Michael Rossetti	Mike	rossetti@gwu.edu (mailto:rossetti@gwu.edu)	MS in Information Systems, GWU 2010	LinkedIn Profile (https://www.linkedin.com/in/mikerossetti)	48-72 hour response grace period

Please wait until end of semester to connect with the professor on LinkedIn, and include the course number (BADM 2301) in your invitation message.

Teaching Assistant

Ademuyiwa Adesoye	Ade	muadesoye@gwmail.gwu.edu (mailto:muadesoye@gwmail.gwu.edu)	MS in Information Systems, GWU 2016	24 hour response grace period

Students

This course is required for all undergraduate students in the Business School. Currently, 40 undergraduates are registered for this offering.

As of 8/24, this course is full. There is a waitlist available for students who would like to register but are not currently registered.

Prerequisites

Each student enrolled in this course should already have basic knowledge of Microsoft Word, Excel, and PowerPoint, or their Mac OS or Google Drive equivalents.

Learning Objectives

The Learning Community operates for the following purposes:

1. To acquire and expand subject matter knowledge
2. To acquire and hone technology skills
3. To improve communication and presentation skills
4. To improve writing skills
5. To improve technology skills
6. To improve the ability to work in teams
7. To acquire and maintain a relevant understanding of contemporary industry practices and challenges
8. To leverage technology as an outlet for creativity

Class assignments are designed to reflect and measure performance against these stated learning objectives.

Operations

Teaching Methods

More Practice than Theory

This course calls for a required lab component to ensure students acquire relevant technical skills.

Emphasis will be placed on providing students with experiential and active learning opportunities.

Accordingly, instruction will more often take the form of lab sessions and support sessions than lecture sessions.

Accompanying Textbook

The following text book has been assigned to accompany this course:

title	author	edition	isbn	price range
Intro to Information Systems	Rainer	5th	9781118674369	$62.50 - $176.75

Relevant material from the textbook will be covered during lectures.

Students may optionally choose to purchase, borrow, or loan the book for a more in-depth experience.

Evaluation Methods

There are no exams for this course. Student learning will be evaluated through the submission of assignments.

Assignments

All Assignments (ASSIGNMENTS.md) must be delivered before the end of the last day of the semester (midnight concluding 12/9).

Each assignment carries a suggested delivery date to help students manage their time. In some cases, assignment delivery dates are not flexible.

Assignments submitted by the delivery date will receive instructor feedback within a reasonable amount of time (roughly one or two weeks following the delivery date).

Communication and Collaboration

To ensure students receive sufficient instructional support and equal access to the time and attention of instructors, and to provide students with hands-on experience using contemporary business collaboration tools (<http://www.theatlantic.com/technology/archive/2015/07/the-secret-startup-saved-healthcare-gov-the-worst-website-in-america/397784/>) , members of the Learning Community will communicate and collaborate according to a specified set of tools and guidelines (COMMUNICATIONS.md) .

Conduct

To foster and promote a positive and successful learning environment, each member of the Learning Community agrees to abide by University Codes of Conduct (CONDUCT.md) .

Communication and Collaboration Tools and Guidelines

Chat

Most course communication and collaboration will take place in the designated Slack (<https://slack.com/>) chat room.

bookmark this: <https://gwu-business.slack.com/messages/badm-2301/> (<https://gwu-business.slack.com/messages/badm-2301/>)

Instructional Materials

All class documents and instructional materials are available online in a public GitHub (<https://github.com/>) repository.

bookmark this: <https://github.com/gwu-business/badm-2301> (<https://github.com/gwu-business/badm-2301>)

At any given time, documents in the repository may be at different stages of ideation and completion. The word `todo` signifies intention of updating a document.

If you see a typo, or would like to contribute to the materials, feel free to edit any of the documents (requires a GitHub account; ask an instructor how to "commit").

For convenience, some instructional materials, like the Syllabus, will be posted to Blackboard as well. These documents will be versioned, and may be out-of-date at some times.

Email

All members of the Learning Community have GWU-issued email addresses, which may be used for email communications. If emailing an instructor, include BADM-2301 in the subject.

Assignment Submission

Most assignments will be submitted through Blackboard (<http://www.blackboard.com/>) , mostly for privacy reasons.

University Codes of Conduct

Academic Integrity

Although students are encouraged to work with each other to discuss and solve problems, submission of identical or nearly identical work will be seen as an infraction of the honor code and could lead to failure or dismissal. See the Honor Code policy for more information.

Honor Code

Students are to adhere to the Code of Student Conduct, and other policies and regulations as adopted and promulgated by appropriate University authorities. Copies of these documents may be obtained from the Office of the Dean of Students or from the offices of the academic deans. No infractions will be tolerated. Students violating the Code of Student Conduct will be dismissed from class and will receive an “F” for the course.

Religious Holidays

The university policy regarding religious holidays is that it is the student’s responsibility to notify faculty during the first week of the semester of their intention to be absent from class on their day(s) of religious observance. The faculty continues to extend to these students the courtesy of absence without penalty on such occasions, including permission to make up examinations.

Disabilities

Any student who needs an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the Office of Disability Support Services (Marvin Center 242) at 202-994-8250. The DSS will contact the professor. You must inform both your BADM 2301 lab and lecture professor about any accommodations that DSS recommends.

Sexual Harassment
